Handong Standard

As a Christian academic institution, Handong Global University (HGU) seeks to be a place where Christ-centered and biblically-based community life is shared together among students, faculty and staff.. This goal is in keeping with Handong's unique history and distinctive mission which continue to unfold through divine providence.

HGU began in 1995 with a vision to establish a university with a strong emphasis on character development as well as academic excellence. In a global society dominated by secular values and an increasing lack of moral imperatives, Handong purposes to educate and equip students to become exemplary leaders who will serve in their respective professions with integrity, wisdom, and moral courage.

This vision comes with great challenge, calling us at Handong to live by a value system that is often at odds with that of the common culture. It calls us to follow the eternal value system of the Kingdom of God as expounded in the Bible, the Word of God, and demonstrated in the life of Jesus Christ, the Living Word. The various programs and communities within Handong are designed to nurture these "Kingdom values" in the lives of Handong students.

Following are some important descriptors of basic biblical virtues that we believe should characterize, in growing measure, the lives of all members of the Handong community :

Love ... expressed in the ways that we welcome, cherish, honor, forgive, and humbly serve others -sometimes at considerable cost to ourselves. Called forth and energized by God's own holy love shed abroad in our hearts, this has tremendous power to heal and transform the lives of both the recipient and the one who bestows it.

Wisdom ... demonstrated in an ability to discern what is good, right, and true. An appropriate fear and knowledge of God, grounded in His word (Proverbs 2), gives us insight into the true nature of things. Out of this, we exercise proper discretion in our day-to-day choices and in our dealings with the world around us. True wisdom produces good fruit and guards against a path of futility and meaninglessness in life.

Integrity ... the mark of a person whose thoughts, speech and actions are consistently aligned with truth and moral uprightness. To have integrity is to be "pure in heart", to have "truth in the inner parts" (Matthew 5:8, Psalm 51:6, 10). Uncompromising honesty with self, God, and others frees the man/woman of integrity to stand firm with transparency and courage against injustice and ungodliness wherever they are found.

Purity ... can be seen as an extension of integrity. Purity of heart inclines naturally toward sexual purity, which honors God, self, and others, and which preserves the safe boundaries of the mystical union of two covenant partners in marriage. Failure in this area, which has become the norm in modern society, undermines solid character and commonly leaves deep scars on the souls and lives of those who treat as profane the gift of human sexuality.

Self-Control ... a close companion of wisdom, is seen in the way that we, empowered by the Holy Spirit, rule over our own desires, emotions, thoughts, and actions. Without self-discipline, there is no growth to maturity. Love, wisdom, integrity, and purity will falter, and our best gifts wither in futility without intentional training and progressive mastery of our self-indulgent tendencies.

Virtues such as the above cannot be merely legislated. These are the substance of godly character. While all people as divine image-bearers have some natural capacity to develop these qualities, it is our conviction that significant growth in virtue is possible ultimately only through the power of the risen Lord Jesus Christ at work in us by His in-dwelling Spirit. Accordingly, Handong endeavors to provide many opportunities for students to encounter Jesus Christ and to grow as His disciples while preparing themselves for future professions in which they may act as change agents in this world.

It is understood that not all Handong students subscribe to the Christian worldview and faith. Handong is open to students of other faiths, or no faith, provided they can commit to respecting the standards promoted here, and to willing participation in the required programs and activities in which Christian virtues are cultivated. We believe that these standards will benefit not only those of Christian faith, but all in the Handong community.

As part of fostering a strong Christian ethos, the leadership of HGU is committed to providing a safe and wholesome community environment for students that is conducive to their personal, intellectual, moral, social, and spiritual growth. In keeping with this commitment, Handong stands firmly against behaviors and practices, such as those listed below, which are damaging to the lives of individual persons and to the community at large.

1. Alcohol use: possessing, consuming or being under the influence of alcohol.
2. Sexual immorality: premarital sex, cohabitation, obscenity, pornography, homosexual conduct.
3. Sexually suggestive expressions in speech, manner of dress, public performances & displays, etc.
4. Abortion
5. Cheating / Plagiarism, and other forms of academic dishonesty.
6. Illegal activities: use of drugs, theft, violence, gambling, etc.

“Why not change the world?” is Handong’s motto. An inspiring proposition, but this is first of all a call to change ourselves - to submit to the rule of Jesus Christ in our lives; to grow in grace and wisdom and knowledge, and to embrace an eternal value system that brings transformation through the liberating power of truth and moral beauty.
